Headline:
Sunshine with heavy, thundery showers developing during Monday.

Today:
Starting sunny, but showers will develop by midday, becoming heavy, with possible hail and thunder. Feeling pleasant in sunshine, but with brisk winds developing. Cooler near coasts. Perhaps drier later across southern areas. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers and any remaining thunderstorms mostly dying out, but perhaps persisting over the Pennines for a time. Turning chilly with long clear spells. Winds becoming less strong. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cool, dry start with some sunshine. Clouding over by afternoon with scattered heavy showers developing. These merging to longer spells of rain. Chance of thunder. Drier later in south. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Often sunny with scattered showers developing each day, these sometimes heavy and perhaps thundery. Feeling pleasant in sunnier weather. Mainly dry, if rather cool each night.
